Oct 19, 2564 BE NT 6.x fast installer - posted in Get your Windows 7 copy (PE or CD): I've been having some trouble with the registry of the Windows 7 Fast Installer on my 64bit NT6.x system. The installer has been extremely slow, especially after changing the boot.ini. The error that I'm getting now is c5a03ef1 (0xc5a03ef1). After that, I'm stuck at a black screen. I'm sure this is the exact same problem you've encountered before. My system has been updated to SP1 through Windows Update and I've also upgraded to Windows 7 Enterprise. The result is that Windows 7 Fast Installer is very slow, but it still runs. I also had problems with PE-3.5 which got fixed with a full re-installation of the Windows 7

Fast Installer. I have been using the installer from December 2007 as the source of the Fast Installer. I would like to upload the Fast Installer here at nadex.install-win7.com but the Fast Installer appears to be corrupted. Here is a thread from January that is also related to this issue:

We have a customer who wants to get a Windows 7 NT 6.1 ISO file in a pendrive, so that it boots from a pendrive to install Windows on a custom computer. The only way we know of is to build a special WinPE DVD with the proper WinPE boot.wim and a custom boot.ini. I've checked the WinPE and it has Boot.wim, etc..., but no pendrive booting is possible, I guess. Hope there's a better way to do this in the fast installer DVD. 2d92ce491b
